I am not too sure whether Christmas, the new year and Australia Day are a time for celebration anymore. It seems to always coincide with natural disasters and stir up religious and racial tensions. Then I read about the way strangers protected children with their bodies at Bondi and I have hope.

The only one of these issues I can help you with is natural disasters. If you have been affected by the Victorian bush fires help is available here <https://www.servicesaustralia.gov.au/vic-bushfires-jan-2026> If your rental property has been damaged, this blog will explain the tax consequences. <https://www.bantacs.com.au/Jblog/property-damage-from-fire/#more-419>

GST and Income Tax for Doctors

This blog is huge and why there hasn't been any other blogs so far this year. It is written in faith that doctors love to get into the detail and will not be put off by 14 pages with references to further reading! Hopefully, I have covered everything a Doctor starting out wants to know. Please share it around.

Pay Day Super, Don't Dare Be Late

If you have any employees at all or even contractors that you are required to make superannuation contributions for, we recommend that you get your systems in place for the April 2026 quarter.
